The Georgetown University Law Center and the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) are pleased to announce the launch of the UNEP-Georgetown Law Center Global Environment & Sustainability Law Fellows Program (the Program). This Program will train public sector lawyers from developing countries working on matters related to environmental law, natural resources law, or associated fields of law. Successful fellows will receive an Environmental Law LL.M. Degree from the Law Center. Upon graduation, fellows will gain international environmental legal and policy experience with the United Nations by working at one of UNEP's offices for up to three months. The fellows must commit to return to their home country to continue working in public sector environmental law and policy for no less than three years or as may otherwise be determined by the releasing government.

The Program helps defray the costs for candidates who would not otherwise be able to afford an LL.M. degree focusing on environmental law. The fellowship will cover the full cost of tuition, travel, and provide a stipend for modest living expenses.

Qualification Requirements:

1. Candidates must be a public sector lawyer from a developing country (i.e., lawyers employed by a government, including ministries or the judiciary) working on matters related to environmental law, natural resources law, or associated fields of law.
2. Candidates must have strong English language skills both written and oral.
3. Candidates must be proficient in using computers for drafting papers and conducting research. Candidates are encouraged to learn basic computer skills before arrival in order to make this transition easier.
4. Candidates must maintain health insurance while attending the Georgetown University Law Center.
5. The fellows must commit to return to their home country to continue working in public sector environmental law and policy for no less than three years or as may otherwise be determined by the releasing government.

Submit All of the Below to Apply. Incomplete Applications will NOT be considered:

1. Complete the Application Form below, including both essay questions.
2. Current Resume, indicating your employment history (both paid and volunteer positions, including the name of your employer, location of your employment (city, country), dates of your employment (start and end dates), and description of your work for each position you have held); your education from high school to the present (including the name and location (city, country) of the institution, dates attended (including date of graduation), degree awarded, grade point average or your class rank and number of students, and your participation in any extracurricular activities); titles of any published materials (articles, books, reports, etc.) or significant research papers; any special honors, awards, scholarships, or fellowships; and any memberships in organizations or community activities in which you have been involved, including any leadership roles.

3. Two Letters of Recommendation (letters of reference) from persons who are well acquainted with you, your commitment to advancing environmental law in your country, your legal abilities, and your work.
4. A Letter from the Releasing Government expressing approval for the applicant to undertake this Fellowship. The letter must be from the Minister, Chief Judge, or head of the agency for which the attorney applicant is working.
5. Official Law School Transcript or indicate the date on which you requested the registrar's office at your law school to send your transcript to us. If you can send an unofficial copy of the transcript with the rest of your application, please do so. HOWEVER, THE PROGRAM CANNOT MAKE AN OFFER UNTIL WE RECEIVE YOUR OFFICIAL LAW SCHOOL TRANSCRIPT(S). PHOTOCOPIES ARE NOT SUFFICIENT. PLEASE INCLUDE AN EXPLANATION OF THE GRADING AND RANKING SYSTEM.

Send your completed application via e-mail to gelpp@law.georgetown.edu by January 15, 2017. Your letters of recommendation may be scanned and sent as e-mail attachments, or may be mailed separately. Please use only one method – do not send multiple copies.
